Excel2HTML is a free software which enables you to export data from spreadsheet files (like Excel and FileMaker) and export them to the internet. It is not only an Excel export program. It is also a web based database search and display tool. Its source is open for modifications and it is free for both Windows and Linux. Specially designed for Internet Explorer, Firefox and other web browsers. No programming is needed to setup and maintain a web site if you can simply copy and paste a generated html page. The data search and sort abilities can be specified via columns and can be data type sensitive. Currently Excel2HTML provides full support for each Excel versions starting from 7 and recent versions. However Excel2HTML will also work on any Excel spreadsheet file, even on older Excel versions as Microsoft has provided a special download site for that purpose. If you have any problem, use built in

help file (click on HELP button, and then click on HELP button again and then select "EXCEL2HTML - 1.0 (Help)...") The software has been tested with Microsoft Excel 7 and newer versions, Filemaker Pro 10 and all current versions (with built in excel file converter) Excel2HTML can export to a number of different file types. The following types are currently supported in excel2html : - csv - html - html with Excel inserted in it - plain text - png - xml - xls (old or new) - xlsx - xlsb The following types of Excel file can be imported in Excel2HTML: - xls - xlsx - xlt - xltm - xlsb - xlsx - xlsx Simple Setup from the website: (1) Create a new folder on a computer and copy the following files to that folder: - install_win.msi - install_win_full.exe - install_win_auto_install.bat (2) Run the file named install_win.msi. After the installation, open the program file, which is in the same folder. The program will be installed in the default directory. (If you are using an old Windows 98 or older system, please ensure that "Program Files" is not in the list of "My Documents") (3) In order to use the program, simply copy your Excel file to the program folder. b7e8fdf5c8
